

Sculptural Jewelry to Capture the Eye: Darcy Miro's Work at the Gallery Loupe

by Tamara Moscovitz

May 8th, 2012

One of the most gorgeous collections of mixed metal cuffs along with equally stunning designs for earrings and rings, are on view in an exhibition, Part Of A Whole, Darcy Miro's latest body of work at the Gallery Loupe, a contemporary art jewelry gallery in Montclair, New Jersey.

Cuff. Perforated and Buttoned, 18k gold, black diamonds.

Darcy Miro, a jewelry and sculptor artist, works in metal forms – sterling silver, bronze, and 18k gold – first carving individual pieces in wax and then casting each in metal using techniques in piercing and constructing collage-like forms.

Much of Miro's work references her interest in architecture, nature, and the body. A graduate of the Rhode Island School of Design, Miro's jewelry is represented in the collection of the Museum of Art and Design as well as private collectors, and has appeared in W and Metalsmith magazines.

Through June 12, 2012. Gallery Loupe, 50 Church Street, Montclair, New Jersey, 973-744-0061. www.galleryloupe.co
