

Tracy Williams, Ltd., New York

artnet®

September 21, 2004

Weekend Update

by Walter Robinson

Want to collect some DVDs? There's a good one of Matt Mullican in a hypnotic trance, from a performance he did in Geneva. It starts out calmly enough with Mullican reading the paper over his morning coffee, but soon goes over the top and erupts into a primal scream, all via two cameras simultaneously shooting the action from different vantage points. Made in an edition of 16, the untitled work is a bargain at $1,200 at Tracy Williams, Ltd. on West 4th Street in Greenwich Village.